MARCO LUCHETTA

The "Fondazione Luchetta, Ota, D'Angelo, Hrovatin ONLUS per i bambini vittime della Guerra" (Foundation for child war victims) has organized the third Press Award Contest in memory of the death of Marco Luchetta, Alessandro Ota and Dario D'Angelo. The three journalists were killed by a grenade in Mostar while working on a special report on child war victims in the Balkans. The Prize also commemorates the death of Miran Hrovatin, the cameraman who was killed in Mogadishu together with journalist Ilaria Alpi.

The Award pays tribute to their humanitarian and low-profile approach to journalism. Apart from the professional skills that this job implies, candidates are required to share the ideals that inspired both the work of the four journalists and the setting up of the Foundation that was created in their name: solidarity among peoples, respect for ethnical and political diversities, peaceful coexistence and negotiation as a means to solve conflicts. The goals and scope of the contest are in line with the spirit that has inspired the first ten years of the Foundation which has hosted and cared for dozens of children coming from war zones together with their parents.

These are the motivations underlying the Foundation's decision to organize the third

MARCO LUCHETTA PRESS AWARD CONTEST
